Workshop #6: Youth: Strategies for Success

Michele Decottignies, ActiveArts Theater

This interactive workshop full of young energy will share stories of young culturally diverse female. Through interaction, participants will identify the barriers they face in their lives and come away with recommendations and strategies for a successful future in a new country. The methodology used in the workshop, Interactive Drama, is a system of physical exercises, aesthetic games, image techniques, and special improvisations whose goal is to turn the practice or theater into an effective tool for the comprehension of social and personal problems and the search for solutions'.
